Carmel Valley Outlook

Vol. VI, No. 34 | 10 Cents | August 23, 1967

A SERIOUS SESSION of art show planning for the Sept. 2 Fiesta de los Amigos came about when artists met to work out plans for the event which will combine an Amateur Art Show portraying only Carmel Valley subjects and coordinated by Mrs. Rex Pryer (center), a Children's Art Show coordinated by Bettie O'Neal (left of Mrs. Pryer), Photographers' Show, "Art-in-Action," "Meet the Authors," and Gallery Show. At far left is Mrs. Al Parker, whose husband is at far right and will show his illustrations during the show. To his right is Zane Speiser, versatile painter-metal sculptor-graphic artist-teacher who will be demonstrating woodcarving during the "Art in Action." (Photo by George T.C. Smith)

Mrs. Rex Pryer (Ruth) has completed all plans for the annual art show and "Art-in-Action" feature of the 1967 Fiesta de los Amigos on Sept. 2. Friday, Aug. 25, is the deadline for artists to register for the Amateur Art Show, according to Ruth, who has entry forms. The forms are also available at The Outlook and The Thunderbird.

Ann Baker will be in charge of hanging the amateur show which will feature paintings, sketches and other mediums portraying Carmel Valley subjects.

Paintings should be brought to the Plaza Building on Del Fino Place on Friday, Sept. 1, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. or before 10 a.m. on Saturday morning. The paintings will then be judged and ribbons and cash awards given.

CHILDREN'S ART

The Children's Art Show, under the direction of Mrs. Bettie O'Neal, will be hung on the opposite side of Del Fino Place on the high board fence behind the Cummings building. All work should be matted, ready to hang, and may be left at the Carmel Valley Library.

DEMONSTRATIONS

Continuous demonstrations will be given by artists who will participate in the "Art-in-Action" program. The driveway of the Marzi's Monterey Pottery Shop will be the location for the exhibition.

Jim Fosnot will show metal sculpture, Harry Conley will demonstrate the art of batik, Dick Crispo will do wood block printing, and Denis Wagner will do metal casting while his wife is weaving.

Tegan Speiser will also do weaving and Peter Partch and Steve Burgess, students of Alex Weygers, will demonstrate forging.

Rick Frye, Frank Craig and Rudi Marzi will be operating the pottery wheel.

In the same area there will be displays of finished work by the three potters, illustrations by Al Parker, "Dennis the Menace" cartoons by Fred Toole, sculpture and paintings by Jerry Gerstl and Jeanne Fosnot. Peg Bowen will assist Rudi and Nancy Marzi in operating the feature.

MEET THE AUTHORS

Writers will be present for "Meet the Authors" feature at the Thunderbird Shop during the day. Author Betty Antoncich and Mildred Armstrong will arrange the meeting which will include Louise Griggsby (Mrs. Fenton Griggsby), Susanne and Stephen James, Elizabeth Clemons Robinson (Mrs. Arthur Robinson), Linda Clark Bradshaw, Win Griffith, Leslie LeCron and Richard Hittleman.

5 STUDIOS OPEN

Origins and the Kellogg Gallery which are located in the Plaza Building will be among the five Village studios which will open their doors to Fiesta visitors on Saturday. The Decorative Arts Gallery in the Talbott Building and Carmel Valley Art Gallery at the White Oaks Inn will also be open to the public. Joe Ricupero will be at his workbench at Giuseppe's showing and working on original jewelry.

COSTUMES

Next week you'll begin to think time has gone backwards and Carmel Valley has reverted to the days of Spanish rule and dashing banditos. Irene Baldwin is urging all the local merchants to don costumes for Fiesta week, prior to the big Fiesta de los Amigos on Saturday, Sept. 2.

Western dress, Spanish clothing, Indian dress and bandito garb are all most appropriate. On the day of the Fiesta itself everyone has been asked to get in the spirit and wear costumes. Whether you are just attending the celebration, attend-tending the celebration, marching or riding in the parade, Irene hopes there will be a huge turnout of appropriately dressed Valleyites.

STREET DANCE

The street dance, given on the evening of Sept. 2 at Del Fino Place, will give another opportunity to adopt fancy Spanish ball gowns and caballero outfits as well.

Horse Show to cap Fiesta days

The 12th annual Trail and Saddle Club Horse Show on Labor Day weekend (Sept. 2-3) will draw contestants from as far away as Sacramento, San Francisco, San Luis Obispo and Bakersfield.

Events will begin on Saturday at 9 a.m. and last through Sunday with a gymkhana as a climax.

Trophies, ribbons and special high point trophies for rider, horse and gymkhana will be given. The inclusion of separate competition for registered horses has been added this year.

Sunday's show will be preceded by the traditional pancake and bacon breakfast beginning at 7 a.m. The snack bar will be open for lunches and beverages both days. A supervised nursery area will be available.

EVENTS

Events will include Trail Horse, Pleasure Horse, Equitation and Stock Horse in the Western Division, and hunters and jumpers as well as Pleasure and Equitation classes in the English Division, special classes for ponies and the traditional "Small Fry" class for youngsters seven years and younger. Many classes for junior riders have been included and some of these are approved for State Horsemen's Association Junior High Point Awards competition.

An interesting event this year will be the famous Tennessee Walking Horses showing their smooth and fast "running walk" in competition. Also a working cow horse class will give the contestant with a good all around ranch horse a chance to compete. Gymkhana events will be Pole Bending, Barrel Racing and a new popular event, the California Speed Barrel Race.

Entry fee for most events is $3. Because of the large number of contests closing date is set at Aug. 26. Entry blanks, forms and details may be had from Ruth Bishop (659-2837) or writing Trail and Saddle Club, Box 521, Carmel Valley.

Club grounds are reached by turning right off Carmel Valley Rd. on Boronda Rd., across the bridge and then left

Proxies, board intact til Sept. water meeting

There has been much conflict over what actually happened at the Aug. 15 meeting of the Robles del Rio Water Co. The group broke up after a motion declared the meeting null and void and set a new date for Sept. 19.

When The Outlook spoke to Mrs. Mildred Dobie yesterday she reiterated her statement that she indeed had not resigned from the Water Co. board. Since the meeting was nullified, Mrs. Dobie stated that her statement of resignation was "stricken from the record as though it had never existed." Mrs. Dobie

Lionettes to model historical hats at Fiesta de los Amigos

Lyrics of the Gay Nineties hit tune, "Where Did You Get That Hat" have been changed to an appropriate "Where Did You Get That Sombrero" by members of the Carmel Valley Lionettes. They are sponsoring a "Hats and History" stage show as one of their Fiesta de los Amigos projects.

Since the Fiesta is a salute to the Valley's colorful past, the Lionettes felt that the collection of hats from the year 1896 to the present time would give the current generation a glimpse of early day fashion and revive some nostalgic memories for others.

The hats, reproductions of those on display at the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York City will be modeled by members of the sponsoring organization. They include Mmes. Theo Mirani, William Stowers, Herman Tedrow, Jack Black, Kenneth Korver, Leroy Dufur, Henry Blatnik, Philip Wright, Henry Perry, Don Draper and Tom Bordonaro.

Narration for the show will be done by Frances C. Sides, regional representative of consumer relations for S & H Green Stamps. Her program will include pertinent facts about the fashions of the day, and events in national and local history that were taking place when the hats were in vogue. S & H arranges the show as a public service.

Mrs. Sides, a former fashion coordinator and advertising manager for retail department stores, is a fourth generation Californian currently residing in San Francisco. Her position with S & H encompasses eight western states with headquarters in San Francisco.

The show is scheduled for 3:30 p.m. on Fiesta Day, Sept. 2, in the multipurpose room of Tularcitos School on Ford Rd. Donations at the door are 50¢ per adult and 10¢ for children 12 and under.

According to Mrs. Mark Hattan, Lionettes Fiesta Chairman, "It promises to be an unusual and fun-filled event . . . or I'll eat my hat!"

Mrs. Hattan and her committee, Mrs. Kenneth Korver, Mrs. Don Draper, Mrs. Leroy Dufur and Mrs. John Warren Douglas, are also sponsoring the famous American Legion Train. Driven by Bill Roberts, the train will appear in the parade at noon and remain to give rides until 5 p.m.

Carmel Valley spirit

Carmel Valley has the reputation around the Peninsula (and particularly at the county level in Salinas) of being ready to fight at the drop of a hat over controversial issues. True, this has been the case a number of times in the past... and this same spirit showed at the Robles del Rio Water Co. meeting last week.

If criticism is constructive, this is a good healthy approach to a problem. What good is done by sitting on your hands or keeping your mouth shut if a vital question comes up about the community in which we live?

It was obvious at the water company meeting that a number of property owners felt that the wool was being pulled over their eyes... at least they wanted an accounting of what had been happening in the past year.

Most of the persons present have been Valley residents for a number of years... they knew what they were talking about and they wanted to make sure their rights were protected.

As long as we have interested people in Carmel Valley, we will have a live community that will control the trends of progress so we will retain the atmosphere that brought us here to live in the first place.

PERSPECTIVE

IN SHORT

GALS WHO WERE manning the tables, cutting off yard after yard of beautiful fabric at the Talbott sale on Wednesday, said it really wasn't fair. They had been paid the day before and didn't have a cent left since they got first chance at the colorful bolts of material. The sale is an annual event that is highly popular with local seamstresses who stock up for months of sewing.

KATHERINE DEASY, of Esquiline Rd., joined other members of the National Teachers Corps for a visit to the Soledad Correctional Training Facility recently. The group toured the facility and were entertained at lunch. The Teachers Corps is a federally-sponsored project planned to augment the training given to culturally disadvantaged children. Corps members are college graduates with full teaching status and will teach in Monterey County schools. Upon completion of one year they receive their teaching credential. Those completing the second year may be granted master's degrees.

LOS PADRES Reservoir, Carmel River and Big Sur River have been stocked with trout again this week so the fishing outlook is bright again.

The Rhyming Philosopher

Come, see my garden on the hill
Without an ounce of chlorophyle,
No lettuce, cabbages or beans
To vegetate in soup tureens.
Nor are we doing much with stocks,
Or columbines or hollyhocks.
Instead we're raising gopher dunes
And rabbit runs and crow communes.
There's fuchsias for the humming birds
While snails and slugs in thund'ring herds
Join other thugs to pitch their tents
And stage their gourmet tournaments.
The linnet population plots
To help us eat our apricots,
While hordes of chipmonk bourgeoisie
Dwell wisely in the walnut tree.

We're glad our garden plot attracts
The squirrel, possum, and the rats;
For while they hungrily carouse
They're kept from chewing up our house.

TO THE EDITOR

Incorporation

Editor, The Outlook:

Your editorial regarding incorporation suggests that, by incorporation, Carmel Valley may become more urbanized. However, I should like to point out that one of the cities, Woodside, which did incorporate as a result of the Coro Foundation study has used the incorporation to exactly the opposite effect.

We returned to the Valley last year after having lived in Woodside for a year and I think that the Valley, being more similar to Woodside than to Saratoga, Santa Rosa, or the other cities mentioned, could well look into what incorporation has done for Woodside.

In the first place, all commercial in Woodside is strictly limited. There are allowed no apartments, for instance. Only one type of business such as bakery, liquor store, etc. is allowed.

There is, in fact, much less urbanization in Woodside than in Carmel Valley right now! Yet, the population of the two places is the same. The city of Woodside has two small grocery stores but not one shopping center.

Carmel Valley could also use the control over building that Woodside has used to benefit. Style of buildings, etc. must always be submitted to the city for approval. Thus, a hodge-podge has been avoided and the commercial section of Woodside remains quite charming and features mostly early California "Pioneer Style" complete with hitching posts (which are always in use).

Woodside does not have sidewalks, as a general rule. Roads are narrow and are not designed for speed. There are riding and hiking trails throughout the community with many Equestrian Crossing signs.

I don't think I need tell you that property values are quite high in Woodside, much of the city being zoned 3-acre minimum. The city also provides for strict control over the stabling facilities of the hundreds of horses which reside there. Public stable facilities, especially, are strictly controlled as to numbers of horses allowed, manure removal, etc.

The problem of police protection in Woodside has been solved through the addition of a private patrol. This is also true of Saratoga. Residents who subscribe to this patrol find that not only do they have adequate police protection for a nominal sum, they also have someone to bring them gas if they run out and are stuck along the roadside, to take their newspapers and mail out of their boxes while they are away from home, to check on their kids and horses anytime, their property twice daily, and perform countless other helpful services!

While there is still time, I sincerely hope the Valley does incorporate and I would recommend a trip to Woodside to anyone who wants to see what is good about incorporation!

Open space

Editor, The Outlook:

As one who has walked more than a thousand times around the open space, long ago a sort of a golf course in Robles del Rio, I have occasionally paused and looking at the green pasture and the many oak tress thereon recited to myself the lines of the Crusader's hymn: "Fair are the meadows, Fairer still the woodlands."

It is this love of the open space which all shareholders of Robles del Rio Water Co. are trustees (not just the members of the board of directors) which caused me to offer an amendment to the by-laws at the recent meeting at Robles del Rio Lodge. This is the amendment I proposed:

"The board of directors shall not approve, without consent of the shareholders, any proposal or make any commitment regarding change in the use of land held by the Robles del Rio Carmelo Water Co. without first obtaining an affirmative vote, by secret ballot of at least two-thirds of the shareholders voting and not less than one-half of the shareholders on record. All proposals of major importance must be brought before the shareholders with views pro and con clearly stated. Any proposal failing to obtain the necessary vote cannot be brought up for vote again within a period of six months."

It would in my opinion be a tragedy, if we gave up for 25 years control of this open space worth conservatively a quarter of a million dollars in exchange for something of a fictitious value. However, should that be the decision of the shareholders quoted in above proposed amendment I would go along with it. As of now I feel confident when the FACTS are revealed we will still have open space in our control and belonging to us.

Non-violence

Editor, The Outlook:

Whether we call the activities of this restless world riots, guerilla warfare, or uprisings we still live in a violent world. We cannot really predict that future generations will live in peace for many learned and brave men have said inspirational words to this effect but we still live in a violent world.

When one considers the words of Noah Webster about violence it would seem a highly improbable undertaking to study nonviolence. The noted lexicographer includes distortion of meaning in his definition of violence thus strengthening the concept that clarity of meaning is technically nonviolence. Joan Baez and Ira Sandperl have attempted such an undertaking which is under the auspices of the Institute for the Study of Non-Violence and is located in the Carmel Valley.

My companion and I visited for about four hours one Saturday. Other visitors were playing ball, reading printed matter, and doing exercises. During discussion the room was alive with thoughtful queries, rejuvenated people from extreme geographical locations, and remarkable conversation. We sat on the floor around the perimeter.

Miss Baez is an artist. Any mischievous thought she is a publicity-seeker can be obliterated by one visit. Mr. Sandperl related strong belief in the "old-fashioned" book reading habit. The Institute has its own library and magazine and circular collection.

The mild rules of the Institute are certainly conducive to bettering the individual whether he chooses rugged exercise, which Joan participates in occasionally; or reading about non-violence — Mahatma Ghandi is a favorite subject; or playing games. The peace of mind, that thought of being an individual, is well worth the visit. It is easy to discern that the participants are not status seekers. Intelligence seekers, yes.

Joan's, or Miss Baez's, response to further publicity "...I don't care."

Guest stars to be featured in annual Cypress Swim Club's 'Aqua-Spectacular'

The Cypress Swim Club has completed arrangements for its third annual "Aqua-Spectacular," which will make it the biggest and best yet, according to Coach Donn Squire.

The "Aqua-Spectacular" is presented each Labor Day weekend at the Monterey Peninsula College pool, and all proceeds benefit the local Cypress Swim Club to cover operating costs of this non-profit organization.

Carol Redmond, of the San Francisco Merionettes' "All American Team," will be the special guest star of this year's show, swimming the solo with which she won the Criterium d' Europe and the Canadian Dominion Championships, "St. Joan of France." Seventeen-year-old Miss Redmond performed this routine during the 1967 Senior Pacific AAU Synchronized Swimming Championships at MPC last month.

Also featured in solo performances will be Kim and Kris Welshons of the Santa Clara Aquamaids, Kim swimming "Song of Scheherezade," and Kris swimming "Nefertiti."

In addition, the Santa Clara Aquamaids' "A" Team, the second place team in national AAU competition, will perform their award-winning routine, "Fiesta Flamenca," a beautiful study in precise synchronization.

Members of the Aquamaids, which is the team which performed for Ladybird Johnson and her party at Hearst Castle last year, are Pam Albin, Nancy Hines, Carol Reynolds, Kim and Kris Welshons, and Marsha Lane, former Valley resident and member of the Cypress Swim Club.

In keeping with the theme, "An Exhibition of Champions, Past, Present, and Future," Cypress Coach Donn Squire, undefeated National AAU Men's solo champion, will swim a duet, "Fantasia Mexicana," with Carol Moore of Salinas.

The Cypress Swim Club's "A" Team, consisting of Bonnie Banker, Lindy Doud, Marnie Mark, Carol Moore, Jan and Sharon Roehl, Susie Selfridge and Judy Snyder, will swim the routine with which they placed third in Junior and seventh in Senior National AAU competition last month, "Grand Polonaise."

Medal winning duets by the Cypress members will also be presented. Jan and Sharon Roehl will swim "The Sultan's Favorites"; Bonnie and Judy will swim "Shades of the Roaring 20's"; and Marnie and Susie will swim "In the Kingdom of Poseidon, God of the Sea."

A highlight of the show will be in the "Champions, Future" routine, when the junior members of the Cypress Swim Club present "A Tribute to Carol Redmond...'Me and My Teddy Bear.'" (This is the routine with which Miss Redmond began her career as a synchronized swimmer seven years ago when she was a member of the Fort Ord Ordettes.) Swimming this routine will be Kathy Blevens, Gerri Brandly, Wynn Norwood, Kim Pilkenton, Melanie Sayers, and Linda Zarp.

Ted Durein, managing editor of the Monterey Peninsula Herald, will emcee both performances of the "Aqua-Spectacular," Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 2 and 3, at the MPC pool at 2:30 p.m.

Admission to the show, which is the Cypress Swim Club's major fund-raising event each year, is one dollar for adults, and fifty cents for children under 15. Tickets may be obtained from any member of the Cypress Swim Club or at the gate on the day of the performance.

Three people, well known here, pass on

Laura Maxwell

Laura Maxwell of Robles del Rio, one of the early founders of the Carmel Art Association, died in Fort Ord hospital recently. Mrs. Maxwell would have celebrated her 90th birthday on Oct. 13. Although she had been in ill health, she had only been hospitalized for a short while.

Mrs. Maxwell was a well-known painter who studied in San Francisco with Sydney Yard and came to Carmel in 1906.

Additional study in New York and Boston preceded extensive training in Europe. Mrs. Maxwell returned to Carmel in 1918 and made her home there with her husband, the late Capt. William Lindsay Maxwell (USN) until 1929. After his death she moved to Carmel Valley.

Mrs. Maxwell was active in the old Arts and Crafts League in Carmel and, with other artists, helped buil the original Carmel Art Association Gallery.

Her fame as an artist was international, having exhibited in Europe and the Far East. She worked in both water color and oil with a wide variety of subjects ranging from florals to landscapes and seascapes.

Mrs. Maxwell is survived by a sister, Mrs. Frederick Crowell of Los Angeles, two nieces, Mrs. John W. Murphy of El Cajon, and Mrs. Everett Anderson of Minneapolis and a nephew, David Prince of San Jose.

Edith Ruehl

Edith Ruehl, long-time resident of Carmel and Carmel Valley died at her home in Carmel Valley recently. She had been in ill health for some time. Burial services were held at St. Dunstan's Church where she had been active in spite of her health.

She and her husband, the late Dr. Maximillian Ruehl, came to Carmel in 1937 when he retired as head surgeon for International Harvester Co. in Chicago.

Mrs. Ruehl was a native of Toronto, Canada, and is survived by two nieces, Mrs. Jean Scott Dudley and Mrs. George Hawley, and a nephew, H. Wheatley de Roche, all living in Canada.

Leo Cartwright

A former Carmel Valley man, Leo Cartwright, died after a brief illness in his present home near Blandford, England.

A native of England, Mr. Cartwright came to Carmel Valley in 1951 with his wife. Originally a portrait painter, Cartwright turned his talents to designing stained glass windows and gained great recognition in that field.

After moving to the Valley he designed three windows in Carmel Valley Community Chapel. Other examples of his work may be seen at Grace Cathedral in San Francisco and the Cathedral of St. John the Devine in New York City.

He came to this country from Dublin at the invitation of a Boston firm who saw his work there.

After leaving his studio in Carmel Valley in 1964, he returned to England and continued his designing.

He is survived by his wife and two sons. One, Gabriel, is a stained glass designer in the United States. The other, Cmdr. Brian Cartwright, is serving with NATO forces in Canada.

Mike Keller leaving theatre; Don Osborn will succeed him

A new resident director will succeed Michael Keller at the Studio Theatre-Restaurant early in September, according to owner Bob Evans Jr. Keller said the pressure of other business demanded more time from him.

Don Osborn will direct "The Odd Couple" which will go into rehearsal shortly after the opening Sept. 8 of "Barefoot in the Park" which Keller is directing. Keller has been with the Studio Theatre for the past three years, acting as director and host at luncheon and dinner, in addition to running his own retail business in Carmel.

Osborn will take over as restaurant host on Sept. 1. He graduated from the University of the Pacific at Stockton and taught English and drama at Bay Area high schools after getting his credential at San Francisco State.

Osborn acted in a number of Studio Theatre productions during the summers of 1959-62 and has directed for the Squirrel Hill Theatre in Berkeley. Among other shows he has directed "The Crucible," "The Miracle Worker," "The Skin of Our Teeth," and "The Boy Friend."

Evans expressed regret at Keller's leaving, complimenting him on the high standards of direction which he has maintained.

"I am confident, however," he added, "that Osborn will prove to be a worthy successor."

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hopkins of Valle Vista Dr. have leased their home and with children, Pam and Chris, are enroute to England where they will spend a month. Picking up a camper in Southampton, they will visit Peter's brother who is an interior decorator in Switzerland. After this they will "follow the sun" until December.

Returning to Switzerland, they will settle near Montruex, the home of Peter's brother, where the children will enroll in school. During the early school months, Joan will tutor them enroute.

At the end of the school year they plan to continue their tour of Europe with its wealth of subjects waiting to be captured by Peter's camera.

The Carmel Valley Lionettes are continuing their birthday project by celebrating the birthday each month at the Carmel Convalescent Hospital of patients who have no families or friends nearby.

Mrs. Theo Mirani, chairman of the hospital project, has arranged for flowers, gifts and cakes to be presented in recent months to Edwin Hampton 84, Narcisco Aguilar 78, Gregorio Palorner 83, Catherine Lange 90, Fredrica Mc Donald 83, and Naomi McReynolds 89. The cakes were prepared by Mrs. Leroy Dufur and Mrs. Charles Gansel.

Since none of the patients sponsored by the Lionettes celebrated in June, the club devoted their activities to assembling materials to assist Sioux Scott and Jerry Winters with the Arts and Crafts program. The two popular entertainers devote each Thursday to instructing a class for the patients.

Among the co-eds packing for the fall semester at college is Mrs. Lisa Buchenroth who leaves next week to continue her studies at Chico State College. The young Valley homemaker who plans to teach on the elementary level, is a physical science major and a music minor. She will be attending on a scholarship received for her excellent grades at MPC.

Well known on the Peninsula for her obedience dog training classes and her role as an entertaining folk singer, Lisa will be accompanied by her children, Shaun, Rory and Kim, and an assortment of "cats, rats and dogs!" The latest addition in the latter category is a Papillon puppy which was a birthday gift to Kim.

Although they do not plan to show the rare little dog whose ancestors date back to the 1500's in Spain, with Lisa's training it will undoubtedly be one of the best trained "dwarf spaniels" in the country.

Welcome home to Maj. (ret.) and Mrs. Ken Korver of Poppy Rd. who have returned from an extended vacation in Missouri. Accompanied by their children, Mickelle, Liz and Greg, the Korvers camped across the country via the southern route and returned via a northern itinerary.

$40,000 windfall revenue produces argument whether to cut tax or up reserve

Carmel Currents

By MARJORY LLOYD

WINDFALL REVENUES... "It's far better that this money be placed in the general fund reserve," Councilman William Sefton declared at last week's city council meeting. He was advocating placement of unexpected revenue from the state in the city's savings account instead of using the funds to reduce property tax rate, as proposed by Councilman Gunnar Norberg. The latter wanted the money placed in the general fund, or housekeeping account of the city, thereby reducing the $1.23 property tax rate.

Norberg made two motions, both of which failed for lack of a second. First he proposed placing the estimated $40,000 windfall revenue – which will come to the city from the state as a result of upped cigarette tax and a one-shot sales tax apportionment) placed in the general fund and the tax rate reduced 18 cents. Secondly, he proposed that the $903,297 city budget be cut to reflect a ten-cent reduction in the tax rate, by placing half the windfall revenue in the general fund. The other half, he proposed placing in the general fund reserve.

Sefton likened Norberg's few-cent property tax reduction proposals to "trying to cut down a pine tree with a pocket knife" in view of the total dollars levied by Monterey County on Carmel property owners. Only 17 per cent of last year's $7.31 county tax rate was Carmel's $1.30 tax levy, he pointed out.

"The record should be made clear that a small part of the total bill is city costs," Sefton stressed.

He remarked, too, that Norberg's proposals to reduce the tax rate, thus reducing known city income from this source in expectancy of an unknown amount of windfall revenue, approximated "foolish spending."

Councilman Herbert Blanks stated that the expected one-shot sales tax revenue will be only an advance payment on money from this source, not additional income. He said the city had pursued a sound fiscal policy except in one area – augmenting the general reserve fund by adding to the tax rate.

Blanks advocated allocating windfall revenue to the general reserve fund and seconded Sefton's motion to this effect. Mayor Stephen Grant supported the motion which, therefore, carried by a 3-1 vote.

That cigarette tax income may be less than estimated, in one instance, was indicated by the Mayor.

"I've given up smoking. I'm not going to pay $9 a month cigarette tax," he announced.

Gladys McCloud, in business since '47, opened shop to outfit daughters

Gladys McCloud started her girl's clothing shop in Carmel almost out of necessity. She and her husband, Walter, have two daughters and when they grew beyond the 6X dress size, Gladys discovered that there was no shop in Carmel that carried the next sizes. So in October, 1947, she opened a small shop on Dolores St., just off Ocean Ave. She has been in her large present quarters on Ocean, near San Carlos, since 1958.

The reason for the McClouds moving to Carmel from their home in Hartford, Conn., was Walter's assignment to the Navy School when the old Del Monte Hotel was first taken over during the war. Prior to that he had been on the faculty of Trinity College where he had gone to get his master's degree. Both of them had been born and raised in Seattle, Wash.

Stocking the shop during the first year was not an easy matter, Gladys recalls. With manufacturers not wanting to add any new customers on their lists, it was a battle to get merchandise during and immediately after the war. But the need for a shop carrying the clothes for pre-teens and teenagers was still there, so she hung on.

The two children who were the cause of Gladys McCloud's shop being born are now grown and living away from Carmel. The oldest, Susan, works for the U.S. Government in London. Sarah, who was kindergarten age when they arrived in 1943, is married and living in Denver. She is getting her master's degree in social work in addition to being a housewife.

When business outgrew the facilities of the tiny shop on Dolores, Gladys moved to the shop on Ocean Ave. which had held the Graham Dime Store. It was the only shop in Carmel with an elevator up until the time that I. Magnin was built.

There is a huge basement under the entire store, and the elevator runs from that to the second floor level on Sixth St.

The shop has recently been called a junior department store by some customers. Its stock includes just about everything that a girl could want in the 3-6, teen, junior petite and junior sizes. No shoes or long formals are carried, but everything else including accessories is there.

Gladys and her husband live in the area of Carmel which has just been annexed to the city. He has just retired from San Francisco State College where he was head counsellor.

During their years in Carmel, Gladys has been active in many organizations. However, she has been cutting down a great deal on her participation, because her time is more limited. She was president of the Carmel Business Association for two years and a member of the Soroptimist Club until recently. And when the girls were in school, she was a member of the Citizens Committee at both MPC and Carmel High School. Now she limits her activities to serving on the board of directors of The Carmel Foundation.

We can't say whether it is Gladys' consciousness of youthful fashions or being surrounded by the color and excitement of young people's clothing, that keeps her so aware. But as an individual she is as alive and sparkling as her shop.

Examples of Rock Art currently on display at the Village Library are evidence of the ingenuity of Camp Fire Girls who camped out on a recent weekend at the Glenwood Chinchilla Ranch. The girls chose rocks from the river with bumps and crevices that suggested a subject, added bits and pieces from Nature's workbasket with clever paper weights, patio sculptings, etc. the result.

Girls from groups led by Mrs. Glen Low and Mrs. George Palmer earned money for their food for the campout from the sale last fall of candy mints.

Spending the weekend with the girls at the old Carmel River swimming hole were their host and hostess, the Lows, the Palmers, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ray, and Mrs. George Shepard.

Camp Fire Girls who participated were Anne Papineau, Kathy Draper, Mary Ray (who was the only weekend casualty with a broken toe), Lisa Erskine, Peggy Palmer, Mylinda Low, Michele Bottaro, Heidi Hattan, Dina Palmer, Karen McCurry, Albertina Zarazua, and Blanca Zarazua. Brothers who joined the fun were the Low brothers, Rory and Glen Jr., Rickey Palmer, and the Ray boys, Patrick, Tim and Robbie.

Bottaros take polar route to Italy

Mr. and Mrs. Lou Bottaro flew over the Polar Route to Italy two weeks ago today and missed a celebration at Lou's Casa Carmela Restaurant in honor of their son Tom's birthday.

"Papa" Lou was born in Syracuse on the Island of Sicily and has not visited there for 47 years. Mrs. Bottaro's parents are also from Syracuse and she has many relatives there to visit also.

Tom's party followed a Lions Club meeting and was a complete surprise to him. The Lions and Lionettes and the Carmel Valley Volunteers knew all about it, however, and were on hand to enjoy music by Angelo De Maria and his combo (Angelo on sax, Marin Morris, piano and Harry Ferrante, drums).

Art Fosso, the Lions program chairman, acted as master of ceremonies and presented Tom with humorous gifts during the evening. Norman Thoreson led the group in community singing.

The De Maria staff from Rippling River Resort came over after work as did the crew from Will's Fargo and the party wasn't over until 3 a.m.

Tom's son, Joey, returned from Hawaii in time to attend. He and his cousin Benji Viljoen, were visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W.E. Viljoen there.

For servicemen

Brilliant red and green ditty bags will be filled with gifts by Red Cross Youth members later this month in preparation for the Santa Claus Gift Bag project for servicemen.

The 350 bags were made by volunteer works and they are now ready and waiting. Individuals, groups, clubs and other organizations can be of great help in providing the gifts to be placed in the bags.

Mrs. Shanner, volunteer chairman, has checked the suitability of the list with her son who recently returned from Vietnam. It included ballpoint pens, nail clippers, new paperback books, playing cards, mailing-size voice tapes, windproof lighters, writing paper and many other small items which can be checked at the chapter office on Dolores at 8th.

To start the scenic trip, one should leave the Salinas-Monterey Highway shortly before the bridge over the Salinas River. At the end of the road one can visit the historic Soledad Mission and Paraiso Hot Springs and then cut back to Carmel Valley from the Greenfield-Arroyo Seco Road for a spectacular climax to the 60-mile round trip.

Tax headaches...and a dream may come true

WHITE PAPER... For the city council's consideration of windfall income allocation, City Finance Officer Arthur Plaxton prepared a "white paper." It showed that the general fund reserve in 1964-65 was $118,000. Average monthly general fund expenditures were $38,884. The city's safety factor for operating was three months, should anticipated revenue be reduced, he explained.

Since that year, the general fund reserve has not been increased. Based on this year's adopted budget, average monthly general fund expenditures have risen to $52,625. Consequently, the $118,000 backlog provides only a 2.2 months' safety factor.

"This safety factor will decrease annually unless the amount of the reserve is increased. The cigarette tax windfall, together with the one-shot sales tax apportionment, would appear to be an unexpected opportunity to improve our now inadequate safety factor," Plaxton's paper stated.

Another statement in the paper was applicable to lowering the property tax rate, thus reducing revenue from this source, and depending on windfall revenues from the cigarette tax and one-shot sales tax apportionment.

"No monies will be received from these sources at least until December, 1967. If property tax revenue during the first half of the present year should be reduced, it is possible the city would not have adequate funds with which to meet its commitments toward the end of that period. It is strongly recommended that this windfall revenue be placed in the general fund reserve," Plaxton advised.

DREAM COME TRUE ... Flanders Canyon, which runs along the southeasterly border of Carmel, to end opposite Carmel Mission Basilica, hopefully was placed in the city's general plan as property which might be acquired as green belt and retained in its natural state. This acquisition is high on the planning commission's green belt acquisition priority list. Last Wednesday night, City Administrator Hugh Bayless informed the city council that this dream may come true.

That afternoon a representative of the Flanders estate indicated to him that the lower half of the 13-acre Flanders estate, the canyon area, may be presented to the city.

This information was forthcoming following a public hearing on annexing two portions of the land, which surrounds the home of the late Grace and Paul Flanders, to the ten-acre portion of the property which lies within the city limits. No person spoke against annexation of a lot fronting on Hatton Rd. which provides access to the Flanders land, also the two and one-half acre southerly portion of the property.

On Sept. 6, the city council will hold a public hearing on rezoning the Flanders acreage. Because of the extraordinary terrain and scenic characteristics of the property, proposed is no more than 15 building sites, each a parcel of land not less than 8,000 square feet.

PLANCOM ACTION ... At last week's Carmel Planning Commission meeting Mr. and Mrs. Edgar A. Collins were given a variance to build a second story penthouse study and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spiering a variance to increase closet space in their home. Both additions exceed allowable area of building to site.

Nine Seventy Seven, Inc. was allowed to construct a fence between its parking area, fronting on Mission St., and the Wells Fargo Bank parking lot, facing San Carlos St. Pedestrian access between the two parking lots will still exist through a gateway.

TIGHTER CONTROLS ... Scheduled for today was a planning commission public hearing on tightening city controls by amending the municipal code. The amended laws propose to establish a maximum average density, for bars and package stores, of one per block – or a total of eight in the Carmel business district. Tighter restrictions on illuminated signs are included in the amendments, too. No illuminated signs inside are to be allowed to be seen from the street.

"CITY FAMILY" TO SCHOOL ... Councilmen, heads of departments and members of Carmel's administrative staff are attending classes twice a week – and doing homework, too. In a classroom at Sunset Center they are learning, thinking, discovering techniques and resources in order to provide more efficient city administration.

It's a challenging experience, they report. They've got their think caps on and they don't think they'll ever take them off – or ever again do their jobs in the same old way, unless that way is the best.

All this exploration is being led by Dr. Melvin Speckler of the Naval Postgraduate School faculty. He is being retained by the city, full-time, until the end of September, then on an intermittent basis, as needed, for nine months.

His field encompasses development of resource management systems procedure. And that is what the "city family" is doing under his leadership. It's a human experience program aimed at turning everyone "inside out" in relation to their area of responsibilities to the city, Dr. Speckler says.

LONDON FOG ... Ahead of Dr. Richard W. Bell and his family lies the smoky fog of England's capital city instead of the drifting sea mist of Carmel. For a year, Dr. Bell, chairman of the aeronautics department at the Naval Postgraduate School, will be with the Office of Naval Research, attached to the American Embassy in London, while observing aerospace research in England and on the continent. His wife, Betty, will cope with London housekeeping. Their daughter, Vicki, who graduated from Santa Catalina School in June, will pursue studies in English literature and French, also travel. Eleven-year-old Beau and her brothers, Chip, eight, and Robin, 13, are enrolled in the U.S. Air Force Dependents School in London.

While the Bells are abroad, their home will be occupied by a student at the NPGS, Lt. A.T. MacMillan of the Royal Canadian Navy, his wife and two small daughters.

I hope it never happens to you, but in an emergency, would you know how to get help fast? In a crisis—whether you need the highway patrol, the police, the fire department, the doctor, or whomever—you can save important minutes when you dial emergency numbers direct.

In the front pages of the phone book you'll find spaces available to write in your own emergency numbers. May I suggest that you fill them in? Also, it's a good idea to make sure everyone in your family, including the children, knows how to use them.

When making an emergency call, please remember this: it is vital to give your location and phone number!

Two copies of the 1967 Monterey and San Benito Counties Telephone Directory traveled halfway around the world to the troops at the USO in Seoul, Korea. The Monterey business office sent the directories in response to a letter from the Club's Director stating the phone books give the GI's a link with their home town and act as a great morale booster.

Planning an "evening out?" You'll relax and have a better time if you make sure that your baby-sitter knows where you can be reached by phone. Even if you're planning to be two or three places during the evening, it's a good idea to write down the names of the places, the phone numbers, and the approximate times you'll be there.

And, it's a good idea to point out to your sitter all emergency numbers, including the family doctor's, which you have written in the front of your phone book.

I'm sure you'll find that taking this precaution is a very easy habit to get into—and it's one way that your telephone can make a night out just that much more pleasant.

SHERWOOD GARDENS Shopping Center in Salinas is being expanded to cover another 52,000 square feet of store space north of the present location. Grand opening is scheduled for Sept. 27.

New shops to be added to Sherwood Gardens

Sherwood Gardens Shopping Center in Salinas announced this week the signing of a lease by Dickers, a department store in Redding, Calif., which plans a 24,000 square foot space in Sherwood Gardens in the present location of Purity Market and some of the smaller adjacent stores.

Dickers will handle women's, men's and children's fashions, as well as domestics, a shoe department, etc. Nov. 1 is the anticipated opening date.

An $800,000 addition to Sherwood Gardens, just to the north of the center, is nearing completion and a Grand Opening is planned for Sept. 27. Largest store in the complex will be Value Giant (a discount chain store which will include a nursery). Purity Market will move to the new location along with several smaller stores, including Perfect Photo, Peppermint Stick Ice Cream Parlor, Sherwood Cleaners and Laundry, Sherwood Beauty Salon and Sherwood Barber Shop.

added that a partial new slate of directors would probably be offered at the Sept. 19 meeting for the two remaining places on the Water Co. board.

Mrs. Dobie, Rex Pryer, and Miss Lucille Erdle have agreed to continue to serve and Mrs. Dobie said their re-election was accepted by the board and only the two places left by the resignation of Mel Blevens and George Greer will be up for vote.

When asked about the proxies, Mrs. Dobie stated that in her opinion they were still valid and in effect. (An amended motion made by Oscar Durham of Upper Circle at the Aug. 15 meeting requested that the proxies be cancelled and new ones mailed for the September meeting with no poll of the golf course included. This motion and amendments were passed by the attending shareholders.)

Attorney Rex Pryer, a member of the board said that "the resignation of an officer has to be accepted by the board and anything stated in the heat of argument need not be upheld.

"The board has the right to elect our own officers and if the resignation were considered valid, we would just elect her (Mrs. Dobie) again until the new board is elected at the next meeting," he added.

On the matter of the proxies, Pryer stated that the by-laws provides that a proxy remains in effect for 11 months unless superseded by a new one. In other words, if the new proxies being mailed for the Sept. 19 meeting are returned they will automatically cancel out the original proxy. However, if shareholders do not return the new ones, then the first proxy will be valid and will be counted as a vote.

Robert Read, nominee for the board, is to organize a committee to complete the mailing of new announcements and proxies since Mrs. Dobie said she could not attempt to undertake the added work. (It was at this point that Mrs. Dobie had said she would resign.)

Read took a tape recording of the proceedings at last week's meeting. Several persons who have heard that tape say that it seems clearly audible that Mrs. Dobie had resigned and at a second point acting chairman Rex Pryer announced that president Mel Blevens would have to appoint a new secretary when he returned from his vacation.

It is the opinion of Mrs. Dobie that these matters will have to be interpreted by a lawyer.

With these conflicting opinions as a starter, the Robles del Rio Water Co. meeting promises to get off to a flying start on Sept. 19.

Guest potter at show opening

His work will be on display on Saturday and on Sunday he will conduct a working seminar for potters from 2 to 3:30 p.m.

The public is invited to Saturday's opening. There is a donation of $1 for Sunday's seminar. Peninsula Potters is located at 221 Hoffman, in New Monterey.
